

SciVal

The Database for evaluating performance

Scholarly Output <sup>①</sup>

SciVal is a web-based research analytics platform developed by Elsevier, designed to help institutions, researchers, and policymakers evaluate and enhance research performance. It leverages data from Scopus, Elsevier's comprehensive abstract and citation database, to provide insights into research trends, collaboration opportunities, and benchmarking metrics

Register Here

Upcoming upskill sessions:

The attendance to these webinars is free of charge, but they require registration.

Date	Session
6 May 2025	Custom SciVal Groups and Reporting Made Easy
15 May 2025	SciVal and University Rankings
4 September 2025	SciVal: Research Performance and Collaboration Evaluation
2 October 2025	SciVal for discovering Research Trends and Emerging Topics
11 November 2025	SciVal for Broader (societal) Impact